

Serving the customer

Inputting the prices into the calculator

The secondary department at KQ have run two very successful KQ market days in Portobello Road market.

To prepare for the market they have packaged and made different items as part of their work skills curriculum.

Skills worked on have included:

- Reading for meaning and following visual instructions
- Categorising and assembling resources
- Packaging and labelling stock.
- Designing products and supporting them with visual instructions

At the market social skills addressed included:

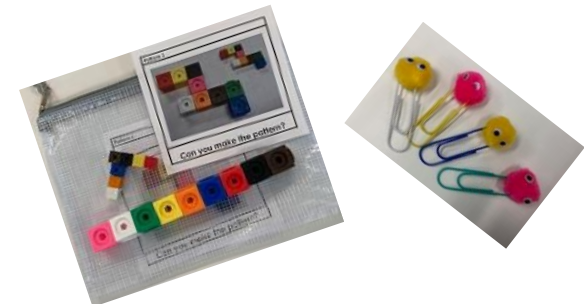

- greeting members of the public
- inviting them to look at the stall
- informing customers of stock prices
- supporting customers with colour choices
- calculating total amounts

Interacting with members of the public

Calculating totals using the cash register

Some best sellers!